

Sophos Central

The world's most trusted cybersecurity platform

Sophos Central is a single cloud management solution for all your Sophos next-gen technologies. With a unified management console, real-time information sharing between products, and automated incident response, it makes cybersecurity easy and more effective.

Save time, effort, and money

Consolidating all your protection into a single cloud platform means you can scale your security without scaling your resources. With everything in one place, you'll save time, effort, and money. If it needs protecting, we can help you secure it: endpoint, server, mobile, public cloud, firewall, email, wireless, WAF, ZTNA, and more. Customers report a 50% reduction in time and effort spent managing IT security, 85% reduction in security incidents, 90% reduction in time to identify issues, and more.

Put your security on autopilot

Industry-leading A.I. and tightly integrated products share information to automatically respond to incidents. No other security vendor offers as many products integrated this deeply. By sharing information and telemetry in real time, Sophos products can automatically respond to incidents for you. Isolate infected endpoints to block lateral movement. Restrict Wi-Fi for non-compliant mobile devices. Scan endpoints upon detection of compromised mailboxes. Identify all apps accessed by users. It's one of the biggest game-changers in cybersecurity ever.

Information at your fingertips

Consolidated views, powerful reporting, and real-time data across cloud, endpoint, and network gives you actionable insights you can use to respond faster and more accurately than ever before. SophosLabs Intelix threat intelligence and cross-product investigations give you the context you need to make the best security decisions.

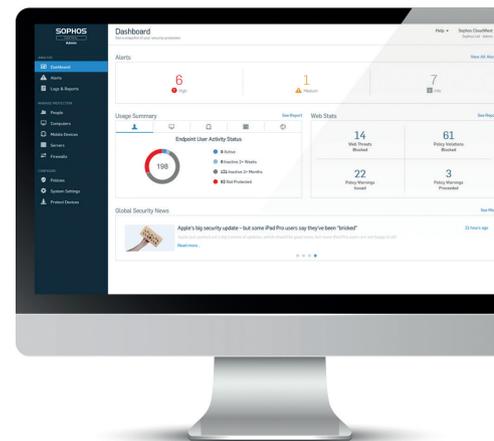

Built for your business with flexible management

Whether you're a small office, a large enterprise, or a Sophos Partner, Sophos Central has exactly what you need to manage everything in one place: easy client setup and zero-touch firewall deployment; predefined administration, help desk, and reporting roles; and Central backup management and firmware updates for your network firewalls.

Sophos Partners use Sophos Central to manage their business, and can manage customers' security from the same console. There's ready-to-go integration with Kaseya, ConnectWise, Autotask, and more, including secure APIs for integration with third-party SIEM, RMM, PSA, and other management tools. And the self-service portal lets Sophos Email, Device Encryption, and Mobile users manage their email quarantines, request encryption keys, and remotely manage their smartphones, freeing you up to focus on other tasks.
